

EFFORT SPENT

Under the premise that all the paragraphs have been discussed and sketched beforehand together in daily meetings, here is included a more detailed view on the effort spent in the documents.

RASD:

Alessandro Fornara:

- CHAPTER 1
 - A.2 Goals
 - B.1 Scope
 - B.2 Phenomena
- CHAPTER 2
 - A.2 Domain-level-diagram
 - A.3 Statecharts
 - B. Product Functions
 - D. Assumptions, dependencies, and constraints
- CHAPTER 3
 - B.1 Functional Requirements
 - B.3 Use cases and diagrams
 - E. Software System Attributes
- CHAPTER 4
 - A. Static Model

Simone Colecchia:

- CHAPTER 1
 - A.1 Purpose
 - A.2 Goals

 - A Overview
 - B Component View
 - C. Deployment View
 - F. Selected architectural styles and patterns
 - G. Other design decisions
- CHAPTER 3
- CHAPTER 4
 - A. Functional requirements
 - B. Non-functional requirements

ITD:

For what concerns implementation, we tried to emulate a real development process, i.e. one of us (Alessandro Fornara) focused on the backend development and the other on the frontend (Simone Colecchia). Consequently, also in the ITD the division between backend-related and frontend-related paragraphs is evident.

Alessandro Fornara:

- CHAPTER 2: Backend
- CHAPTER 3: Backend
- CHAPTER 4: Backend
- CHAPTER 5

Simone Colecchia:

- CHAPTER 1
- CHAPTER 2: Frontend
- CHAPTER 3: Frontend
- CHAPTER 4: Frontend
